Qualified as a solicitor in April 1977. I became a Partner in the firm of Morecroft Urquhart in 1980. The firm is a general practice undertaking private client and commercial client work, and also publicly funded work. The firm has a City Centre base in Liverpool with branch offices, one on North Merseyside and one on South Merseyside. The current practice comprises 12 Partners. The firm has the benefit of an Investor in People award and the Lexcel award.

I have a wide range of experience, both in civil and commercial disputes. I have been a qualified mediator since September 1996 with experience of mediating disputes covering commercial disputes, ranging from International companies to partnership issues and also mediating civil matters and housing disputes, involving Housing Associations, Housing Co-operatives and tenants.

I am a member of the Centre for European Dispute Resolution and of the Association of Northern Mediators.

I offer mediation services at times and venues convenient to the parties with charges to be agreed per session (half day, full day or more than one day) or per hour.
