PROFILE

I am a huge advocate of mediation and other forms of Alternative Dispute Resolution. As well as practical mediation experience, I lectured in Commercial Mediation and International Arbitration at University for 10 years.

I mediate all types of civil/commercial and workplace, employment disputes.

I have Advance Mediation training and hold an LLM in International Law and International Relations (including dispute resolution), a Postgraduate Diploma in International Dispute Resolution and my Doctoral research focused on Mediation and Justice in the Construction Industry.

My background in law and Psychology affords me a unique perspective in understanding the personal, emotional, and legal aspects of disputes, permitting me to mediate each dispute with specific expertise as to sensitive issues involved.
